THE PRINCIPLE THIS PLAN FOLLOWS

Two of the three gaps are not revision problems — they were never secure, so they are retaught, not practised. Only the third gap is a practice problem. Fourteen days, ten minutes a day, one target at a time, and a criterion Salma can check herself without waiting for a teacher.

Three targets

Each target closes one named gap from the marked paper. Bloom and DOK levels are shown so the ladder is visible.

#	TARGET	WHAT THE TEACHER DOES	WHAT SALMA DOES · 10 MIN	SUCCESS CRITERION
1	Attach the -s to its trigger Gap 1 · Q9 · Q12 · Q18 Bloom: Apply · DOK 2	Reteach in one 8-minute mini-lesson: point at the subject first, then choose the ending. Model six sentences aloud, three of which need no -s. Days 1–4.	Days 1–4 · the subject-first drill. Read a sentence, say “he / she / it — yes or no”, then write the verb. Six sentences a day.	Ten sentences in a row with the correct ending, four of them third-person. Salma marks her own with the answer strip.
2	Learn the five verbs that never take -ing Gap 2 · Q7 · Q17 Bloom: Understand → Apply · DOK 1 → 2	Reteach from scratch — this was never acquired. Teach know, like, want, believe, belong as a closed list with a hand signal. Days 5–8. Add a wall card.	Days 5–8 · the state-verb card. Say the five verbs, then write one true sentence with each. Cross out any -ing you catch yourself writing.	Salma rejects an -ing state verb in a mixed set of eight sentences, with no prompt from the teacher.
3	Let the signal word choose the verb — in her own writing Gap 3 · Q19 · Q20 Bloom: Analyse · DOK 3	Practice, not reteaching. Give a signal word, ask for a sentence, then ask “why that verb?”. Insist on the explanation, not just the sentence. Days 9–12.	Days 9–12 · signal-word first. Choose a card (always / right now / on Fridays / look!), write the sentence, then say the reason in one sentence.	Four sentences from four different signal words, each with a spoken reason that names the use — routine, or happening now.

The fourteen days

Ten minutes a day. Two rest days a week, on purpose — a plan with no rest days is abandoned by day five.

Who does what

WHO	RESPONSIBLE FOR	EVIDENCE THEY LEAVE BEHIND
Class teacher	The two reteaching mini-lessons, the answer strips, the wall card, and the six-question retest on 1 September.	Initials on the Friday check for each target.
Salma	The ten minutes a day, and marking her own work against the success criterion before showing anyone.	A dated page per day in the back of her exercise book.
Family at home	Asking one question a day — “which clue word did you use?” — and nothing more. Ten minutes, not thirty.	A signature on the Friday check.
Head of English	Reading the 1 September decision, and moving Salma into the small group if target 2 is still open.	A one-line note on the class tracker.

THE DECISION ON 1 SEPTEMBER — WRITE IT DOWN, NOT IN YOUR HEAD

Six questions: two on the -s, two on state verbs, two asking her to write and explain. Five or six correct closes the plan and Salma is told so in front of the class. Four or fewer and only the failing target is retaught — the other two are not repeated, because repeating what is already secure is how a fortnight becomes a term.

CUT HERE · TEAR-OFF CARD FOR THE STUDENT

Tape it inside the exercise book. Salma ticks her own day.

Salma's own card

Three jobs, fourteen ticks, and one question at home. Nothing else goes on this card.

MY THREE JOBS FOR TWO WEEKS

1. Look at who is doing it first. If it is he, she or it — the everyday verb needs an -s.
2. Five verbs never take -ing: know, like, want, believe, belong.
3. Find my clue word before I choose my verb — then say why I chose it.

TEN MINUTES AT HOME — THE ONLY QUESTION TO ASK

“Which clue word did you use, and why did you choose that verb?”

Ask it once, listen to the answer, and stop there. If she cannot name the clue word, she has not done the job yet — send her back to the card, not to a longer exercise.
